

Parent's Temperament Wheel

For each of the traits on the wheel, colour in the section that would reflect whether you are high, medium or low. The low level is found closer to the core of the wheel, and the high level is at the outer edge. Then compare this to a wheel of your child's temperament. Are there similarities? Are their differences?

Child's Temperament Wheel

For each of the traits on the wheel, colour in the section that would reflect whether your child is high, medium or low. The low level is found closer to the core of the wheel, and the high level is at the outer edge. Then compare this to the wheel with your temperament. Are there similarities? Are their differences?
